DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-12, drawn to a high-density circuit module, classified in class 361, subclass 729.
 - II. Claims 13-31, drawn to a memory access system, classified in class 257, subclass 686.
2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions II and I are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination such as other high-density circuit module could be used in the memory access system as recited in claim 13 instead of the high-density circuit module devised in accordance with claim 6, furthermore the language of "the high-density circuit module devised in accordance with claim 6" recited in claim 13 is improper because it does not clearly define or disclose any specific structure for the high-density circuit module in claim 13. Applicant is advised to clearly recite the specific structural limitations in claim 13 instead of reciting "accordance with claim 6" in claim 13. The subcombination has separate utility such as it may be used in devices other than memory access system.

Art Unit: 2822

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Group I is not required for Group II, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
